KERJAYA Prospek Group Bhd broke out of a consolidation phase as it sought to breach a trading high of RM2.41 from last December.

Positively, yesterday's rally was accompanied by strong trading volume, as well as rising momentum in the indicators.

The slow-stochastic is growing at 44 points while the 14-day relative strength index (RSI) sits at 72 points.

The daily moving average convergence/divergence (MACD) histogram has jumped to a positive bar.

There is support at RM2.12 and RM2.
