Remuneration policies and decisions are made through a transparent and independent process.

Practice 6.1

The board has in place policies and procedures to determine the remuneration of directors and senior management, which takes into account the demands, complexities and performance of the company as well as skills and experience required. The policies and procedures are periodically reviewed and made available on the company's website.

Application	:	Departure
Explanation on application of the practice	:
Explanation for departure	:	The Remuneration Committee ("RC") takes into account the corporate objectives and the performance of the Company to determine the remuneration of the Directors. In determining the remuneration of the senior management, the RC takes into account the role, skills, competency and the performance of the individual. The component parts of remuneration are structured so as to link reward to corporate and individual performance, in the case of EDs and INEDs. In the case of INEDs, the level of remuneration reflects the experience and level of responsibilities undertaken by the particular INEDs concerned. INEDs receive their allowances fees, which shall be paid as follows: (i) monthly directors' fees allowance; and (ii) meeting allowance – for attendance at Board and Board Committees' meetings for which he is a Chairman/member. EDs are employees of the Company and their remuneration are contracted by their Service Agreements. The RC vets through the Service Agreements to ensure that a balance is struck between attracting and retaining the best against its interest in not paying excessive remuneration.
