2. Confidentiality and Anonymity

Every effort will be made to treat the Whistleblower's identity with appropriate regard for confidentiality. The Group gives the assurance that it will not reveal the identity of the Whistleblower to any third party not involved in the investigation or prosecution of the matter. The only exception to this assurance relates to when the Group is obligated to reveal confidential information relating to a whistle-blowing report if ordered to do so by law or for purposes of any proceedings by or against the Group. The Group's assurance of confidentiality can only be completely effective if the Whistleblower likewise maintains confidentiality.

3. Protection

The Whistleblowing Policy offers protection within limits of the law and to the extent reasonably practicable to whistleblower(s) who submit the reports internally in good faith, even if the allegations prove to be unfounded or mistaken. In addition, a whistleblower will also be protected against any adverse and detrimental actions for disclosing any improper conduct committed or about to be committed within the organisation, to the extent reasonably practicable, provided that the disclosure is made in good faith.

4. Reporting in Good Faith

Reporting in good faith includes, but is not limited to, protection from retaliation in the form of an adverse employment action such as termination, compensation decreases, or poor work assignments and threats of physical harm. Any whistleblower who believes he / she is being retaliated against must contact the Human Resources immediately. The right of a whistleblower for protection against retaliation does not include immunity for any personal wrongdoing that is alleged and investigated.
