- UMW reported core net profit of RM203mil for its 3Q14, which brought 9M14 earnings to RM681mil. This is within expectations, accounting for $73 \%$ of our estimate and $76 \%$ of consensus. Group net profit was down $13 \%$ QoQ driven by softer auto and equipment division earnings, but rose $17 \%$ YoY from a weak base.
- Auto division: Toyota TIV fell $13 \%$ QoQ (+16\% YoY) given the Raya festivities and the absence of the typical pre-Raya sales rush this year. Revenue fell $9 \%$ QoQ while pretax margins fell to $13 \%$ (from $14 \%$ in 2Q14) resulting in a $16 \%$ fall in auto division pretax profit. The YoY rise in revenue and volume are not surprising as 3Q13 was impacted by the run-down of the old Vios ahead of the new model in 4Q13. However, a stronger USD is a significant dampener to earnings going forward as UMW Toyota imports entirely in USD. Additionally, competitive pressure is likely to increase as players de-stock ahead of uncertainties in 2015, which may impact margins negatively in 4Q14. Our forecast has already factored in USD:MYR at 3.25 (for FY15F onwards) vs. spot rate of 3.3 . Every $1 \%$ rise in USD impacts UMW bottomline by $\mathbf{2 \%}$.
- Oil & Gas division: Naga 6 will be operational in Nov 2014 while Naga 7 will be delivered in Dec 2014 which will boost 4Q14. However, a number of contracts (foreign mainly) are expiring in FY15F - the weakness in the sector may adversely impact renewal rates in the near term.
- Equipment division: 3Q14 earnings (-19\% QoQ, $-20 \%$ YoY) were hit by a slowdown in the heavy equipment sub-division arising from suspension of mining activities in Myanmar and drop in commodity prices in PNG. However, the sanction in Myanmar has been uplifted in Sep 2014, which will support a recovery from 4Q14.
- Maintain HOLD on UMW at an unchanged fair value of RM12.20/share given a lack of catalyst other than growth at its oil & gas division. Auto, which anchors group earnings, is still expected to perform poorly given a stronger USD and expectation of exceptionally stiff competition in 4Q14, while 1 H 15 is shrouded with market uncertainties. Nonetheless, our FY15F already implies flattish EPS growth. Share price has fallen sharply and we are starting to see trading opportunity in the stock.
